Norwood Truitt

A lifelong resident of Dagsboro, the town has been my home since 1956.

Since 2003, I have served on the Planning and Zoning Commission and Town Council.

I have worked as an Electronics Technician many places around the world from Greenland to Germany to Canada, but Dagsboro has always been my home base.

I recently retired from NOAA, having worked at Wallops Island, Virginia for 31 years.

I have lived and enjoyed the familiar, small town life that Dagsboro has given me and wish to preserve that atmosphere while allowing for growth that benefits our local businesses and residents. I will strive to maintain and improve our zoning ordinances and our local autonomy.
